Calabarzon LGUs urged to institutionalize reforms

MANILA -- The Department of Health is urging local government officials to pass local ordinances that would help institutionalize health reforms.

At the sidelines of the Colloquium: Health Leadership and Governance Program here, DOH-Calabarzon Director Eduardo Janairo said that since local leaders have term limits, health reforms should be sustained.

"May naitanim na kami, mahalaga 'yung sustainability at tuloy-tuloy ang programa para hindi mawala ang kalusugan para sa kanila (We have already planted the seed, what's important now is sustainability and continuous implementation of health programs)," he said.

Local officials from selected municipalities in the Calabarzon region have undergone a training program, led by the DOH, called Municipal Leadership and Governance Program (MLGP), which aims to promote a systemic mindset for overcoming challenges in community healthcare. The colloquium is held to formally end the two-year partnership program with the eight

SENATE CORNER Grace Poe's response to media queries on water woes

It is time to look at Metro Manila's water woes thoroughly and offer a comprehensive and long-lasting solution

In the short term, because the crisis is looming once again, the two water concessionaires should ensure 24/7 availability of water tanks that will deliver water if not house-to-house, in strategic points that may be accessed by the residents, establishments and offices.

In March this year, Manila Water announced its Cardona Water Treatment Plant has begun distributing 24 million liters of water per day to several barangays in Rizal. What impact does this have in augmenting the supply in the East Zone?

It is ironic that we have just passed a law requiring clean restrooms in terminals, yet we are faced with this problem of water supply

The people's well-being is highly dependent on the quality and availability of water, and how well this vital resource is managed

Diarrhea and a range of diseases are closely linked it water supply, inadequate sanitation and poor hygiene practices.

According to the World Health Organization, in 2015, the deaths of 526,000 children under five were attributable to diarrhea

In the long term, we should explore ground water supplies that can be tapped without imperilling environmental conditions and balance. This may require a hefty investment, but one that will ensure availability of the resource in the future

We also need to scrutinize the government contracts with the water concessionaires. The fact that we have the private sectors doing this for us does not clear the MWSS from its responsibility as regulators.

El Niño, climate change and other phenomena related to water supply have been there, and we should have planned a long time ago

The concessionaires as well as the MWSS should have planned for the macro. The failure of the concessionaires to deliver water is as much the failure of the MWSS.

SSS taps local fund managers for P7B funds

QUEZON CTY,-- State-run Social Security System (SSS) tapped nine (9) domestic fund managers to manage part of its Investment Reserve Fund (IRF) worth P7 billion to help improve pension fund's earnings from investments.

SSS President and CEO Aurora C. Ignacio said the pension fund deployed P1 billion each for three Balanced Fund Mandates, three Pure Equity Fund Mandates, and one Pure Fixed Income Fund Mandate. An investment mandate is an instruction to manage the pool of capital or funds, using a specific strategy and within certain risk parameters.

Earlier, SSS opened the bidding to hire nine local fund managers to manage the P9 billion investible funds which are divided equally to three types of mandate namely: Balanced Fund Mandate, Pure Equity Fund Mandate, and Pure Fixed Income Mandate.

Ignacio said the local fund managers underwent an open and competitive bidding and transparent evaluation process. After the bidding process, only P7 billion was deployed to qualified fund managers.

Under the Balanced Fund Mandate, SSS selected the Rizal Commercial Banking Corporation, BPI Asset Management, and Trust Corporation and ATRAM Trust Corporation who will each manage P1 billion investible fund. For Pure Equity Fund Mandate, BPI Asset Management and Trust Corporation, Metropolitan Bank and Trust Company, and Philequity Management, Inc. will each handle P1 billion investible fund. Meanwhile, BPI Asset Management and Trust Corporation was entrusted to oversee P1 billion investible fund for the Pure Fixed Income Fund Mandate.

"The SSS management believes that it will benefit from the investment value-added services of the fund managers such as training, access to proprietary investment analysis and information and access to business analytics," Ignacio said.

Under the old charter of the SSS, the pension fund is allowed to appoint local or foreign fund managers to manage the IRF.

SSS' investment reserve fund as of the end of 2018 period stood at P495.6 billion wherein bulk of it, or 43 percent is invested in government securities, 19 percent in equities, another 19 percent in loans to members, 3 percent for bank deposits, 8 percent for corporate notes and bonds, 7 percent in real estate and 1 percent for mutual fund.

"The remaining P2 billion allotted for two local fund managers will be open for rebidding this year," Ignacio said. (SSS)

As of May 31, 2019, 11 health care providers and 22 health care professionals were penalized by the Arbitration Office of PhilHealth due to cataract-related cases involving around P7.8 million worth of fines. Almost 4,000 cases are still on-going to date for cataract-related cases alone.

E-Claims or the automated submission of claims was implemented in 2018. This ensured that no entry of data would be done in PhilHealth Regional Offices.

Other mechanisms to deter fraud were instituted such as the use of Claims Form 4 (CF4) for all admissions starting March 01 of this year. CF4 requires more information to better evaluate the truthfulness and quality of service given to its members,

Other measures include the data-driven transformation of PhilHealth through the continuing implementation; strengthening of Business Intelligence Office; and strengthening operations for efficient and effective delivery and review of roles, performance and assignment. Robust Finances

PhilHealth strongly maintains that the fund entrusted to us by our nembers is secured. In 2018, a net income of P11.6 Billion was realized. In March this year, a net income of around P 2.44 Billion was recorded with a total fund balance of P127 billion to date. Call to Action

PhilHealth called on the public to support the fight against health insurance fraud. PhilHealth cautioned its members against institutions or practitioners who use their names to claim for admissions that never happened. It also encouraged its members to immediately report to the nearest PhilHealth office any incidence of medical procedures undertaken without the members' informed and written consent. It issued the call to keep unethical doctors and abusive facilities from manipulating and exploiting PhilHealth and its members. It also enlisted the support of its media partners in being vigilant about potentially fraudulent practices, emphasizing that every amount saved from fraud and abuses can be used to improve the benefit packages to make these beneficial for more PhilHealth members.

"I ask our members to maintain your trust in PhilHealth and not to believe in biased reports. PhilHealth is keeping true and steadfast to its mission of Members' First. Hence, our efforts will not stop here. We will continue to initiate reforms that will ensure the integrity of the National Insurance Program, and the viability of the health insurance fund to enable us to fulfill our obligation to our 104 million strong membership," said PhilHealth OIC, President and CEO Ruben John Basa. "Now, sexuality is out in the open... and children do not fully understand the holistic issue of sexuality, that it is not just a physical need but that it has its consequences," Tagle said.

"The problem is it is not complemented by education. Children are exposed to these things, and imitate them, but they lack the necessary guidance," he lamented.

He noted that some parents rely on teachers or catechists to educate their children. But at the end of the day, he said that parental duty to influence a child's upbringing in a positive way cannot just be abdicated.

The cardinal also stressed that a harmonious family environment can positively affect their children's future as well. "The parents play key role in teaching our children the right behavior and values. If not, we may ask other relatives, like grandparents, uncles, aunts to help guide our children," he added.

The dialogue was in line with the archdiocese's celebration of the Year of the Youth, and was held before Tagle celebrated mass on the Solemnity of the Corpus Christi.

said, citing their commitment to an equitable, peopleoriented health system for all Filipinos.

He also challenged the thousands of new government health professionals "to advance primary care and make the most out of the country's limited but growing resources to bring quality care to every Juan and Juana."

The DOH chief and other health officials also witnessed the ceremonial signing of the commitment of Trust, Faith and Effective and Efficient Health Services Delivery between Janairo and Human Resource for Health (HRH) representative Graham Inquito.

In welcoming the new health workers to the region, Janairo described the new health care providers as "makabagong lingkod-bayan para sa bayan" (new breed of public servants for the country) who will fill in the shortage of health agents and a massive force to help achieve the health department's target of 95 percent measles vaccination.

"Although we no longer have the Dengvaxia (vaccine), we still have to focus in addressing dengue and those who have been affected by the Dengvaxia vaccine in the region," Janairo said.

Meanwhile, outgoing Provincial Board Member and Laguna 2nd District representative-elect Ruth Mariano Cavite, Sta. Maria and Majayjay in Laguna, Agoncillo and Padre Hernandez expressed gratitude to the DOH for augmenting the health care providers in the region.

"We are proud to have you (new health professionals) as our partners now because as health care providers, your work is not just a job, but rather a mission to ensure the wellness and well-being of our constituents. Because the disease now is high-tech, there is the need for equally hightech health intervention," Hernandez added. (PNA)
