The pandemic response will be the highest priority in the 2022 national budget-- Angara

In consideration of the continued impacts of COVID-19 on the country, Senator Sonny Angara said today that the pandemic response will be the foremost priority in the Senate's version of the 2022 national budget.

As the Chairman of the Committee on Finance, Angara took note of how the proposed 2022 national budget, as submitted by Malacañang to Congress, did not include several key items related to the country's response to the pandemic.

"Funds are very tight this year because as noted by our colleagues during the DBCC, parang hindi COVID budget yung sinabmit po ng DBM because there were no funds for contact tracing, no funds for testing outside of the booster shot, no funds for the testing of the 12 to 17 year olds, no funds for contact tracing, no funds for the SRA, the Special Risk Allowance of our health workers," Angara said.

During the hearing on the 2022 budget of the Department of Interior and Local Government (DILG), Angara said that the challenge would be to find a balance between the various interests and requirement of the different agencies of government and the funds needed to address the pandemic.

While the Senate will work hard to heed the various requests for funding increases of the agencies, Angara said the bias would be on strengthening the country's health response.

"With the under-

standing of the department and all the other agencies, those will be our utmost priorities going into 2022. Yung health response po ng bansa, because that's our very existence under threat," Angara said.

"You must admit that self-preservation is the ultimate goal of any individual or society. So, let's preserve ourselves first and then we can go towards the other

House voids approval of UP Security Bill

MANILA – The House of Representatives has reconsidered its third reading approval of the House Bill 10171 or UP Security Bill institutionalizing the 1989 University of the Philippines (UP) -Department of National Defense (DND) agreement into the UP Charter.

Cavite Representative Jesus Crispin Remulla made the motion to rescind the approval of House Bill 10171 on September 30 and it was carried by the plenary.

The lower chamber overwhelmingly approved the bill on final reading with 179 affirmative votes on September 21.

In a virtual press conference of the National Task Force to End Local Armed Conflict (NTF-ELCAC) on Monday, Remulla noted that the passage of the bill at the House was done during the budgetary process, which was a very busy season for the chamber.

"Kapag budget na kasi ang pinag-uusapan, sabay-sabay ang hearings niyan eh sa iba-ibang hearing rooms at pagdating ng session, parang pagod na lahat (If budget is the topic, all the hearings would be synchronous at different hearing rooms. And once the session starts, everyone is tired)," he said. "So kapag magsisimula na ang plenary, abalang-abala lahat kung paano ginagawa ang mga budget (So once the plenary starts, everyone is busy about the budget)."

Remulla said he believes the legislative process for the UP Security Bill rushed, and did not undergo much scrutiny and deliberations.

"Minsan iyong floor, may nangyayari na hindi dapat at ito nga ang sitwasyon naman dito (There are times that some things happen that shouldn't happen on the floor, and this is such situation)," he said.

He said the "corrective action" was the motion to reconsider the approval of such an important measure.

The UP-DND accord, he said, is an "executive agreement that should be left alone and left to the Executive", stressing that lawmakers should not meddle with the affairs of another branch of government.

With the motion to reconsider approved by the plenary, Remulla said the bill would be brought back to the House Rules Committee for its disposition.

"Kami [House Rules Committee] na ngayon ang magsasabi kung iyan ay mabubuhay pa o palulusutin pa rin namin (We now have the say if we will still let it live or let it through)," he said.

The bill seeks to prevent state security forces, such as the Philippine National Police (PNP) and Armed Forces of the Philippines (AFP), from entering and enforcing its operations in all UP campuses without prior notice to "the President or the Chancellor of the constituent university or the dean of the regional unit concerned" except "in cases of hot pursuit and similar oc-altered the projections of the government on attaining herd immunity and as such the DILG has included a proposed budget for contact tracing in its "wish list" that was submitted to the Senate.

The DILG is looking at hiring 25,000 contact tracers for the entire 2022.

Angara assured the DILG that the Senate will continue to support its requests as much as possible as it has done in the past.

"For the record, last year, the Senate raised the budget of the DILG family by more than P3 billion with casions or emergencies."

Cavite Rep. Jesus Crispin Remulla

It mandates university officials, whenever requested by law enforcers, to extend the necessary assistance in law enforcement within the premises of the UP campuses.

The bill shall prohibit subjecting any student, faculty member, or employee to custodial investigation without prior notice to the university president or chancellor of the constituent university or dean of the regional unit concerned.

Members of law enforcement agencies shall be prohibited from interfering with peaceful protest actions by individuals or groups within university premises.

The DND-UP Agreement, signed on June 30, 1989, prohibits the military and the police from entering all UP campuses without prior notice to its administration.

The agency decided to terminate the agreement effective Jan. 15, 2021, with Defense Secretary Delfin Lorenzana calling the arrangement "obsolete". (PNA) the amendments proposed by Senator Bato, Senator Ping, Senator Nancy, Senator Win. Nagtulungan po kami para itaas ito," Angara said.

"Yung nabanggit ng ating mga kasamahan, yung mga bodycam, yung mga police cars, police stations, fire stations na hindi nabibigyan po ng pansin over time, we'll try to consider that. Let's liken it to doing something while you're also running in place. Mahirap po talaga. But, please, trust in your lawmakers to make some difficult judgments," he added.

PIA launches 35th Anniversary Celebration

QUEZON CITY (PIA) — About 200 employees of the Philippine Information Agency (PIA) had participated in a nationwide online launching of the PIA 35th Anniversary on October 4, via Zoom, and was live-streamed on the agency's private Facebook group page, "PIA I-Hayag".

The event was graced by PIA Director-General Ramon L. Cualoping III who led the oathtaking of the newly hired and promoted employees and delivered an inspiring message as he launches the PIA 35th Anniversary logo, theme, and symbolic structure.

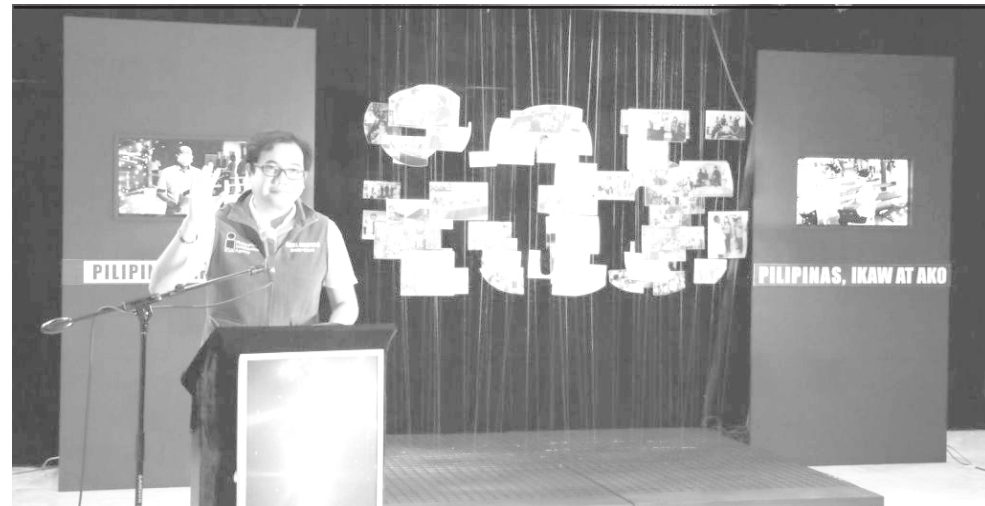

The anniversary logo was introduced on two videos, expounding on the agency's long and eventful journey in fulfilling its mandate and its most recent battle cry promoting its mission to Inform, Inform, Inform and to Explain, Explain, Explain to the Filipino people the many programs of the government.

The anniversary theme: "PILIPINAS, IKAW AT AKO", as described by Director-General Cualoping was a slogan explaining the driving force of the agency as it contributes to the whole-of-nation approach in triumphing against any challenges and achieving a better nation — a comfortable life for all Filipinos.

The main highlight of the event was showcasing the symbolic structure at the lobby of the PIA Central Office. It was officially opened for viewing and was presented in a 3D anamorphic design made of photos of PIA employees in action during the pandemic, exhibiting unity as they continuously serve the nation despite the difficulties and challenges they encounter every day. The said structure was built by the Creative Production Services Division in collaboration with the PIA 35th Anniversary Committee.

The event was a success as employees of the Philippine Information Agency posted their own reactions online with the official hashtags, #PilipinasIkawAtAko, #PIA35, and #i35Experience.

Ms. Lorenza Cruz of the Management Information System Division (MISD) hosted the event while the president of the Philippine Information Agency's Employees Association (PIAEA) Ms. Liberty Aragonés led a very solemn and inspiring prayer. (MGR / PIA CPSD)
