

Angara: Find ways to provide aid to the people affected by the COVID-19 quarantine

Senator Sonny Angara called on the various agencies such as the Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD) to find ways to get the cash grants and other aid to the families affected by the enhanced community quarantine immediately.

At this time when almost all businesses have closed and movement of people is restricted due to the enhanced community quarantine to combat the spread of COVID-19, Angara noted that "people are becoming desperate and in need of assurance from its government that they will be taken care of."

"We must ensure the uninterrupted implementation of programs such as the Pantawid Pamilyang Pilipino Program (4Ps), which are even more critical to marginalized families at this time when most likely some, if not all, of their members are not being paid any wages," Angara said. Under the 2020 General Appropriations Act, a total of P108.765 billion was allocated to the DSWD for the 4Ps program.

The 4Ps involves the provision of cash grants to the poorest of the poor amounting to P1,350 (health and nutrition and rice subsidy) per family per month plus P300/month/child attending day care or primary

Cardinal Tagle: ‘Physical distancing’ should not remove ‘community caring’

Cardinal Luis Antonio Tagle, Prefect of the Congregation for the Evangelization of Peoples.

As he echoed the call for "physical distancing" to slow the spread of coronavirus, a Vatican official said the practice should not eliminate "community caring".

Speaking during Mass for the Feast of the Annunciation on Wednesday, Cardinal Luis Antonio Tagle said that the pandemic calls for compassion.

"I know we need physical distancing and that is needed and we are appealing to everyone to observe it where possible," Tagle said in his homily at the Pontificio Collegio Filipino in Rome.

But the feast of today reminds us that physical distancing should not lead to forgetfulness of neighbor," he said. The cardinal, who heads the Vatican's Congregation for the Evangelization of Peoples, stressed that physical distancing is for the "common good" and the response "should be common for all".

"And that is what is needed today. This is a pandemic and this crisis affects all people and so we should think of all and the response should be for the common good," he added.

"As we observe physical distancing, let us not forget the communal caring. That's what Jesus did, God with us," Tagle also said./ source:cbcp news

POE TO DEPED:
TAP BARANGAYS TO CONTINUE HALTED SCHOOL-
BASED FEEDING PROGRAM

Sen. Grace Poe is urging the Department of Education (DepEd) to tap the barangays for the continuation of its school-based feeding program to ensure that students can still access free nutritious meals in their homes during the monthlong Luzon-wide expanded quarantine.

"In light of this unprecedented public health crisis that forced all public schools to close, it is crucial that the government is still able to feed millions of students with healthy food while it implements the enforced community quarantine throughout Luzon," said Poe.

In this way, poor households will be assured of their children's health and have one fewer thing to worry about as they find ways to secure their essential needs amid the outbreak, she said.

Poe championed Republic Act No. 11037 or the Masustansyang Pagkain Para sa Batang Pilipino Act, which institutionalized a national feeding program for about 12 million public elementary school students and children in daycare centers to address hunger and malnutrition in the country.

One of its three components is the school-based feeding program implemented by the DepEd, which ensures undernourished children from kindergarten to Grade 6 at least one fortified meal for a minimum of 120 days in a year.

Poe pointed out that the halted feeding program for students was among the unexpected consequences of public schools shuttering and the school year abruptly ended.

NEWS UPDATE

PhilHealth to release P30 billion to hospitals to fight CoVID-19

The Philippine Health Insurance Corporation (PhilHealth) is releasing an initial P30 billion to accredited hospitals to help them respond to the onslaught of CoVID-19 in the country. The move utilizes its interim reimbursement mechanism (IRM) which will provide health care providers with the much needed liquidity to adequately respond to the pandemic.

PhilHealth said that the amount is equivalent to three months' worth of claims based on historical data, which will be charged to their future claims. Hospitals will be asked to submit a letter of intent to avail of the mechanism. This will include including those facing sanctions for various violations of their contracts with the national health insurer.

The arrangement is also part of PhilHealth's efforts to reduce return-to-hospital payables filed in 2019 and earlier, and to further increase payments to hospitals.

"PhilHealth rests on solid ground and with sufficient liquidity to support Government's efforts to fight the CoVID-19 threat. These are extraordinary times that require extraordinary measures, and this arrangement will surely be of help in President Rodrigo Duterte's resolve to avert the spread of the virus," PhilHealth President and CEO Ricardo C. Morales said.

Further, the state health insurer will also provide its members and service partners with additional relief in view of the recent declaration of a state of public health emergency in the country by extending the deadline of payment of contributions for its self-paying direct contributors. They can now pay their first quarter contributions on or before April 30, 2020 instead of March 31, 2020 without interest.

Moreover, its policy on single period of confinement and 45-days coverage are also waived in favor of the member, while the filing period for claims is also extended from the usual 60 days to at least 120 days in favor of the health care providers. END

Learning while staying at home:
Teachers, parents support DepEd distance learning platform

As the entire Luzon and other parts of the country remain under enhanced community quarantine due to the COVID-19 outbreak, the Department of Education (DepEd) launched DepEd Commons, an online platform for public school teachers to support distance learning modalities.

Since its inception last Wednesday, March 17, a total of 151,749 teachers have joined the said online platform, gaining support and praise from teachers as well as parents.

"As a teacher po nila, I can say na napakalakang tulong po sa mga bata nito lalo na po na nakahome quarantine. Masasabi ko po na this is the best way to continue their learnings even without their teachers. Nag ceenjoy na sila, natututo pa," teacher Alleuia Romero of Indang Central Elementary School in Cavite said.

"Sobrang helpful po ang DepEd Commons sa mga bata especially now na sa gadgets na po nakatutok ang mga bata lalo walang pasok. May mga options pa po sila pwede makapag-advance once na malampasan na nila yung para sa level nila. Kintang kita po yung tuwa sa kanila lalo na kapag nakikita nila na tama yung sagot nila. Big help din po ito para hindi na puro games lang ang ginagawa nila while using gadgets," mother Jasmin Papa shared.

For Education Secretary Leonor Magtolis Briones, the DepEd Commons is a step towards being able to offer continuity of education to Filipino learners despite disruptions of classes.

"Education must continue even in times of crisis whether it may be a calamity, disaster, emergency, quarantine, or even war. We appreciate the efforts of Information and Communications Technology Service and Undersecretary Pascua for making this platform available in these trying times," Briones said.

Undersecretary for Administration Alain Del Pascua noted that the said platform has many limitations and is still being improved, while underscoring that the use of it is not yet required.

"We acknowledge the reality of situation wherein DepEd Commons and its Open Education Resources (OER) are not accessible to all teachers and learners. Given that not everyone has access to a stable internet connection, online learning platforms are only given as an option for those who have access to such medium," Undersecretary Pascua said.

"We must start somewhere and work our way towards the ideal where all teachers and learners in the country can access such resources. Until that time, we offer DepEd Commons and OERs to those who can make use of them, as we continue to work for the connectivity of all our schools and offices," Pascua concluded.

Volunteerism amid COVID-19 crisis

Amid the suspension of classes, flight cancellations, and border restrictions due to the Corona Virus Disease 2019 (COVID-19) threat, students from the University of the Philippines Visayas (UPV) who were stranded in their dormitories found a meaningful opportunity to provide help.

Adrian S. Camposagrado, Chairperson of UP Visayas University Student Council, has noted the lack of medical supplies such as face masks, and alcohol.

He said that he and his fellow university student council officers thought about the frontline workers who are risking their lives in combating the spread of the disease and who are greatly affected by the lack of medical supplies.

"How about the front line workers, the health workers, the nurses, the doctors in the hospitals," he said. Through the help of another student, Hannah Labrador, their initiative of making "improvised face shield" was realized. Camposagrado said that the mother of Labrador who works at Iloilo Mission Hospital, provided the design and the initial materials on how to make improvised face shield.

He said that Labrador's mother also asked them if they could mobilize other students to engage in this undertaking. "What if we reach out to other students," he said, adding that the students did not hesitate to provide help. He said that they are glad that they are also able to raise awareness to other people that front liners such as the health workers need help. On March 17, the day they started this project, the students were able to produce more than 100 face shields made from acetate, velcro, and foam, for the use of health workers in hospitals and other health facilities.

"Let this be our contribution to one of the most vulnerable sectors in times of health crisis," he said in his Facebook post. Now, they have shared this initiative to other youth groups, particularly Sangguniang Kabataan officials in the region. Through technology and online platforms, they have shared these "Do-It-Yourself" steps and procedures in making improvised face shield. But the challenge they are facing now is the difficulty in procuring supplies and materials; that is why they have been appealing to establishments that can provide them these materials in order to sustain this initiative

"Acetate, velcro, and foam – these are significant to continue the project," he said. Amid this concern, Camposagrado said that the messages they have been receiving, which expressed appreciation and lauded their endeavor, have been steady sources of inspiration.

"The messages that motivate us will continue to inspire us in doing our jobs," he said. He also expressed his gratitude to the front liners including medical workers, barangay health workers, barangay captains, military men in checkpoints, among others, who continue to work tirelessly for the public.

"Thank you very much. Saludo kami sa inyo," he added. source:(LTP/UPV/PIA-Iloilo/Photo thumbnail courtesy of Hannah Labrador)

Apart from the 4Ps, the DSWD also provides social pension to indigent seniors (P23.184 billion under the 2020 GAA) and unconditional cash transfer (P36.488 billion).

Under the social pension to indigent seniors program, indigent senior citizens receive a month stipend of P500.

With the unconditional cash transfer program, poor households are provided with P300 per month in cash grants to cope with the impacts of rising prices of goods and commodities.

Recognizing the challenges in the delivery of these benefits to the beneficiaries during the quarantine period, Angara urged the DSWD to coordinate closely with the local government units, who have been undertaking their own initiatives to deliver food and other assistance to their constituents while they are stuck inside their homes.

"Marami na sa ating LGUs are nagdoodoor-to-door sa paghatid ng pagkain at iba pang benepisyo sa ating mga kababayan na nangangailangan ng tulong sa panahon na ito. Pwede itong gamitin ng DSWD para maihatid ang ayuda sa mga family beneficiaries, lalo na yung wala pang EMV (Europay, Mastercard, Visa) cards," Angara said.

Department of Health invites everyone to stay home so we can stop spreading COVID disease-19 kalimutan ang mga tsuper ng jeep, tricycle at taxi na matindi din ang naging tama ng quarantine at walang ibang pinagkukuhanan ng kita para sa kanilang mga pamilya," he added.

Under Section 87 of the general provisions of the 2020 GAA on the implementation of nationally-funded projects, "the national government may designate LGUs as implementing agencies" for projects, services and other programs appropriated in this Act of agencies, including the DSWD.

With no alternative income or savings to go to, Angara said the poor families have no means to purchase food, which is why it is even more important for the national government to work with the LGUs in ensuring they have meals every day. Angara said the setting up of community soup kitchens, just like what some LGUs have already done, should be considered for all the areas under quarantine.

These cooked meals can either be delivered to the households door-to-door or people can congregate in small controlled batches, based on the discretion of the LGUs concerned.

"We need to look after the welfare of our people in these very challenging times. A significant portion of our population relies heavily on the government to give them support. We must make them see and feel that they are being cared for. We must find ways to help. They are the ones who need it the most now," Angara said.

No. 02-6-02 SC. Further, petitioners were likewise directed to furnish the Office of the Solicitor General with a copy of the amended petition together with its annexes and within five (5) days from receipt of the order pursuant to Section 12 last paragraph of the same law.

LGU Imus addresses transport, financial dilemma under ECQ

IMUS CITY, Cavite (PIA) --Imus City Mayor Emmanuel Maliksi together with officials of concerned offices outlined a program for transportation, food, health and other concerns to address issues that cropped up in the implementation of enhanced community quarantine (ECQ) in the city.

Mayor Emmanuel Maliksi

Different problems arose from the implementation of the ECQ, particularly with the suspension of mass transportation and the lockdown of the cities and municipalities with hundreds of commuters returning home from work or going to work in the south were stranded.

The threat of the COVID-19 contagion did not deter the people from leaving their homes because the ordinary workers were more concerned with their livelihood rather than their safety and continued to go out to report for work.

A controlled transport system was implemented with accredited vehicles to provide transport service to Imuseños to bring them to public markets, supermarkets, hospitals, pharmacies, banks and to place of work within the city. Point-to-point vehicles will also be provided for transport service outside of the city.

In coordination with the City Social Welfare and Development Office (CSWDO), sanitary, medical and food supplies were distributed to the indigent families especially those families of employees affected by the ECQ. The Market Office and Slaughterhouse assured enough food supply for the city residents' consumption including delivery of essential goods.

Garbage collection goes on as scheduled in coordination with the City Environment and Natural Resources Office (CENRO)

ISANG STREET DWELLER NA NAPAANAK SA GILID NG KALSADA, SINAKLOLOHAN NG CITY RESCUE GROUP

Noong ika-18 ng Marso, 2020, isang street dweller ang nanganak sa gilid ng kalsada malapit sa paradahan ng mga jeep biyaheng Trece sa tabi ng Philippine Savings Bank, Barangay Zone IV, Dasmariñas, Cavite.

Sa pakikipag-ugnayan ng mga opisyal ng barangay sa City Recue Group, narespondehan ang ginang at ang bagong silang nitong sanggol na babae. Agad na dinala ang mag-ina sa Emergency Room ng Pagamutan ng Dasmariñas upang mabigyan ng kinakailangang atensiyong medikal.
