

New DOST IV-A chief to upskill staff

Newly appointed
DOST-Calabarzon
Director Emelita Bagsit

MANILA – The newly appointed chief of the Department of Science and Technology (DOST) in Calabarzon (Region IV-A) wants to upskill and reskill the staff and push for an innovative work environment.

In an interview with the Philippine News Agency (PNA) on Wednesday, Director Emelita Bagsit said she is lucky to work with the hardworking and talented employees of the DOST regional office.

"Infusion of ICT (information and communications technology) into our systems, encouraging creativity, and developing new ways of doing things are some of the steps we will be taking to achieve an innovative working environment," she said.

Bagsit, a chemist, said among her priorities is to upskill and reskill the staff. Her office will invest more on the staff to expose them to various technologies such as robotics, artificial intelligence (AI), the internet of things (IoT), and blockchain.

This will be made possible by providing them with Master of Science (MS) and doctoral (Ph.D.) degree programs, as well as by developing facilities suitable for the research and development (R&D) environment, thus enhancing the regional innovation system.

"Through responsive programs and projects evolving with time and trends, sufficient funding, employee upskilling and reskilling, strategic partnerships, and an innovative work environment, not even the next pandemic can hinder us in bringing science and technology closer to the people of Calabarzon," Bagsit said.

30-year nat'l transport infra program hurdles House panel

MANILA – The House Committee on Transportation on Wednesday approved a measure that would adopt a 30-year National Transportation Infrastructure Program to ensure continuity amid changes in leadership.

In his sponsorship remarks, committee chair and principal author Edgar Sarmiento said there is a need for the measure to address the concerns of the aviation, railway, and land sectors, adding that it is only proper to finally have a roadmap for the next 30 years.

"So whatever current programs and projects relevant to aviation, maritime, land sector and railway should go on for us to finally have the needed public transportation the country needs," Sarmiento said.

House Bill 9468 provides a list of core projects to be implemented between 2023 and 2052.

It may be updated every five years by the National Economic Development Authority (NEDA), in coordination with the oversight and implementing agencies.

NEDA shall also be primarily responsible for formulating the details of the infrastructure program.

To ensure funding, the NEDA and the Department of Budget and Management shall ensure that the total budget allocation by the government for the program shall be at least 5 percent of the gross domestic product.

Tolentino proposes new guidelines on emergency procurement

MANILA - Senator Francis 'Tol' N. Tolentino recently proposed new guidelines to determine whether a government supplier/contractor is financially capable during emergency procurement.

Tolentino's recently filed Senate Bill No. 2433, seeks to amend Section 53 of Republic Act No. 9184 or the Government Procurement Reform Act to update the provisions on "negotiated procurement" and require the presentation of documents that will prove bidders' financial capacity to fulfill the requirements set by the government.

Under RA 9184, a negotiated procurement scheme may be conducted by the government directly with suppliers/contractors "in case of extraordinary circumstances," on the condition that the chosen private firm is a capable supplier--technically, legally, and financially.

However, Tolentino noted that RA 9184 failed to provide guidelines in determining whether a supplier/contractor is efficient enough to fulfill their contractual obligations.

Tolentino stressed that the emergence of the COVID-19 pandemic should serve as a wake-up call in determining the financial capacity of suppliers.

Mobile version of nat'l ID soon to launch: PSA

MANILA — The Philippine Statistics Authority (PSA) is currently working on the development of a mobile version of the Philippine Identification (PhilID) or the national ID, PSA Undersecretary Rosalinda Bautista announced on Wednesday.

Bautista said the Philippine Identification System (PhilSys) team is targeting to launch the mobile PhilID early next year.

She said any PhilSys registrant may avail of the mobile PhilID by linking the generated 12-digit PhilSys Number (PSN) to the mobile ID version, which is expected to operate the following year.

The PSN can be acquired after the completion of three Steps of the PhilSys registration process.

Step 1 involves the collection of demographic information such as full name, gender, date, and place of birth, blood type, and address -- that can be accessed via portal <https://register.philsys.gov.ph>.

The validation of supporting documents and the capture of biometric information will be done in Step 2.

Step 3 will be the delivery of PhilSys Number (PSN) and PhilID to the owner's home address.

Bautista said the PhilID, which contains all records collected and encoded in PhilSys Registry Office, remains a non-transferable card even if its mobile version becomes available.

"So, this is the project that the PSA is working on and we hope to be able to launch it very soon. We are targeting to have this mobile ID by early next year," she said.

The PSA assured that layers of security features will also be included in the development of mobile PhilID.

Signed into law by President Rodrigo Duterte in August 2018, Republic Act 11055, or the Philippine Identification System Act, aims to establish a single national ID for all Filipinos and resident aliens.

The national ID shall be a valid proof of identity that shall be a means of simplifying public and private transactions, enrollment in schools, and opening of bank accounts.

It will also boost efficiency, especially in dealing with government services where people will only need to present one ID during transactions. (PNA)

DOH-CALABARZON DISTRIBUTES 2,500 MATERNITY KITS

The Department of Health (DOH) - CALABARZON (Cavite, Laguna, Batangas, Rizal, Quezon) started delivering maternity kits or "mama kits" to various provincial health offices in the region.

A total of 2,500 kits will be given with each province having an allotment of 500 kits.

"The kit contains the necessary supplies to help provide a clean and safe delivery whether in a hospital or clinic. This is to protect the mother and the baby from neonatal infections that may occur," Regional Director Eduardo C. Janairo stated.

"Napakaimportante ang clean delivery – including clean hands, clean delivery surface, clean cord cutting and tying, proper cord care, and bathing – this is a key intervention for reducing infections in newborns," he emphasized.

The mama kit contains cotton cloth (baby wrapper), nail cutter, bar soap, face towel, toothpaste and toothbrush, cotton balls, isopropyl alcohol, maternity pads, bathroom tissue, disposable umbilical cord clamp, sterile surgical gloves, sterile surgical blade for cord cutting, disposable underpants and pail with cover.

"They are still newborns and mothers who dies from infections soon after birth, that is why skilled attendant and adequate hygiene in our birthing facilities are necessary to address this." Turn to page 5

DILG to election candidates: Don't pay "permit to campaign" to CPP-NPA or risk disqualification

The Department of the Interior and Local Government (DILG) today warned all candidates running in the 2022 national and local elections not to pay extortion money or the so-called "permit to campaign fees" to the Communist Party of the Philippines/New People's Army (CPP-NPA-NDF) otherwise it will actively seek their disqualification even if they already filed their certificates of candidacy.

DILG Secretary Eduardo M. Año reminded all candidates of Memorandum Circular 2019-26 which calls this modus operandi as a "clear form of extortion and defilement of the sanctity of the right to suffrage."

"Huwag po tayong magpaloko at matakot. Ang ibabayad n'yong extortion money sa mga komunista ay gagamitin din nila para makapaghasik ng terorismo sa bansa," he adds.

According to the said directive, Año enjoins local government units (LGUs) and the Philippine National Police to ensure that all candidates are allowed unhampered entrance in every LGU and guarantee peace and order in all areas especially those considered as hotspots for insurgency.

"All local officials should steer clear of directly or indirectly giving financial, material and political support to the CPP-NPA since this is a clear violation of law. This is something that the DILG under my leadership will never tolerate," he said.

LGUs are also directed to ensure that all citizens desiring to exercise their right to suffrage are allowed and encouraged and their rights are protected when participating in political assemblies and meetings and in the dissemination and receipt of information of any and all election-related matters.

"We must secure all candidates and political parties and ensure that they are given access to the electorate during the campaign period without intimidation and manipulation from communist terrorist groups," he said.

DILG Undersecretary and Spokesperson Jonathan Malaya said that the DILG is committed in filing disqualification cases against candidates who will be proven to have supported and cooperated with the CPP/NPA/NDF.

"Supporting communist terrorist groups through financing or other means is an election offense and is sufficient to cause the disqualification of a candidate," said Malaya.

"We will follow through on our words, those politicians who will be proven as accomplices of the CPP-NPA will face disqualification cases from the DILG," he said.

In 2018, the DILG divulged a watchlist containing 349 local government officials who were identified to have ties and are supporting the CPP-NPA by means of extortion money in the 2016 polls.

"We are glad that in the 2019 elections, only 63 local officials were reported by our intelligence sources as having supported the CPP/NPA. This is a clear victory for our whole-of-nation approach against the CTGs," he said.

The DILG has directed the Philippine National Police to closely monitor the 63 local government officials who are associated with the CPP-NPA and other candidates running in the coming elections who have plans of supporting the communist terrorist group.

Section 4 of Republic Act 10168 known as 'The Terrorism Financing Prevention and Suppression Act of 2012' states that any person who finances terrorist groups to carry out or facilitate the commission of any terrorist act, by a terrorist organization, association or group, or by an individual terrorist, shall be guilty of the crime of financing terrorism.

DILG Secretary
Eduardo M. Año

He said that under RA 10168, the crime of financing terrorism is punishable by the penalty of reclusion temporal in its maximum period to reclusion perpetua and a fine of not less than Five hundred thousand pesos (Php500,000) to not more than One million pesos (Php1,000,000).

Such is also punishable under Section 261 of the Omnibus Election Code of the Philippines which can render the accused "permanent disqualification to hold public office" with imprisonment of one to six years.

mining the gaps in current laws, as the Senate and the House of Representatives continue with their respective inquiries over the alleged overpricing of medical supplies purchased under RA 11469 or the Bayanihan to Heal as One Act of 2020.

"The pandemic laid bare disparities in our laws, particularly those related to health care, travel, transportation, and procurement," said Tolentino.

Under SB 2433, potential government suppliers, contractors, and consultants "are mandated to submit documents to prove their financial capacity," even if under a negotiated procurement scheme.

Tolentino's proposed legislation also mandates the procuring government agency to determine the financial, legal, and technical capability of such supplier/contractor during an emergency procurement.

According to Tolentino, it's about time to amend the present procurement rules; by doing so, the senator believes it will promote and sustain efficient and good governance.
